DAN BARNES
Editor

"Where are you goin' with nylons and all to see all the bears in the zoo or play ball?"

"I'm goin' to college and not to the zoo and I won't come back till I'm better 'n you."

Halls of brick and towers of stone what is in this place?

Bearded men who know the truth will meet us face to face Crowds and mobs mill all around faces all the same

We will sift them like the wheat and they will know our names

Here are girls as ripe as plums and luscious boys with bangs the fruit decides itself among the orange orangutans

Gold, and everlasting dawn; Ivory and lace;
God, and some poor stranger's love all are in this place.

Well old man spill it out what's it really all about why should you why should I build on nothings till we die stack our hopes up to the sky love our girlfriends' mothers

WHY?

"A-priori propositions have,
of existential value, somewhat according to Husseman."

Codger codger give the word what's this transcendental bird does it think can it love is it really like a dove is it here or up above will it give my soul that shove?

"Denis Diderot, on the other hand, died from eating too many stewed cherries."

Fuzzy fellow tell the truth since we came here from Duluth we ain't seen we ain't been told where to find the pot of gold all we've heard's been dead and cold tell the truth: have we been sold?

“to which Pascal replied that he was very fond of the radical arc though he had not experienced it.”

All in a herd we follow the grass with our tongues on the ground and the wind in our tails (Buffalo usually follow the grass)

Hi there funny thing with eyes that makes a noise like me Can you see the ground with those or find the nearest tree?
I can see the sky with mine and I can bellow too In fact, I'm not a buffalo that's odd! neither are you? golly, funny thing with eyes Let's organize!

All in a herd they follow the grass with their tongues on the 'ground they follow my Yes (buffalo follow me follow the grass)

Little girl with the foot-high hair atop your head (and it's mostly air) you smell of Sen-sen and I could care We college men can tell a square

We're looking out for something real pouting lips and a four inch heel the chairman's daughter from U. S. Steel who'd be too good for an oldsmobile

We won't settle for nothin' less: a wife who'll fit at our new address (somewhere in Beverly Hills no less)

And if she has a soul, that's all right I guess provided it won't show in evening dress

I've got a ten story building (they haven't completed it yet) and I've got a penthouse on Michigan Street and a dorm named for Father Marquette I've rented a flabby old man in a suit who knows how the world came to be and he comes and explains it for three hours each week to forty-four others and me I have an army of Autumn nights and I have a harem of books My troops are stretched out between Winter and me for as far as a Sophomore looks.

Summer School

Summer School:
more school than Winter take a little thing—RatPsych
(two hours in class) your agent intellect picks up categories for an hour on the el four hours winding transformer cores typing "My dear sir: Re your previous monads . . ." half-hour: home four more hours of fat Italian monk RATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY (Girls? what's that?)

Welcome Week

When the mob slows down the faces won't bluurr she can see my nose and I can see her (however it ought to be) For right now it's like the downtown at noon but the beanie heads will settle down soon (particular eyes to see) There's a man quite big who seems like a rock he would shoot your ma for half of a buck (he's a sophomore probably) With a jaw set firm I'll go to the cur I'll transfix the brute I'll say
 "Morning, Sir!"
(What do you expect of me?) When the mob slows down
and that'll be good as far as it goes

Greek Games

See the running Alpha Delt See the Pi Alph run
 See the Tau Delt jump and run See the Sigma Delt pant (See also the watching girlfriends) Oh Alpha Delt! Oh Pi Alph!
 Oh Oh Oh!!
 See the TKE
 The TKE is not panting
 The TKE is not sweating
 See the TKE
 The TKE is leering Oh Delta Sig! Oh Tau Delt!
 Oh Darn!

Founder's Day

To begin the fathers built their college in a neighborhood with the help of a parish fair (the city noticed—you'll find it in old newspapers—and looked forward to being "the intellectual heart of the West") these founders and students and later alumni didn't disappoint the city: it's been a reciprocal arrangement encouragement, leadership exchanged

Our first glimpse of the gods and aren't we stunning!
(mill mill mill) it was they who invited us you know because of our vital importance to them (brrrrrrr—notice a draft?) yes, I shook hands with one nothing, really (mill mill shiver mill) Whew!
tough, this being a god give me something to sign or something Homecoming

A fire's what we've got and it keeps all the lions and bears and hyenas and adults away when we sit by it screaming and hollering out in the night it's the civilized way it's our very own fire and it's probably magic so keep at a distance as long as you stay because it's our day

1966 Miss Loyola Candidates: Chris Glazar, Kathy Byrne, Mary Jo Kupst, Carol Breslin, Ellen Chamberlain, Sandy Mlinarcik, Betty Berezna.

Military Ball

For three hundred thirty cadets (and their dates) it's not Pow Wow or "V" show that tingles the toes it's "Mil Ball" the military lends a certain elegance and solemnity to social events the presence of Major Generals the Lebanese consul the president of the University all contribute an atmosphere of significance The cadets won't forget it

Oliver Gaddini and Mary Hoehl, Frank Malito and Mary Scherer, Ken Zych and Ann Solari (Military Ball queen), Norman Nunamaker and Janis Meade, John Brennan and Barb Kral.

Variety Show

You be Bette Davis
I'll be all four Troggs and Lassie let's pretend (did you know the Bolshoi is residing in the Delt house let's pretend?)
I'm just a chorus hoofer but some day I'll make it big Richard Burton shares my Foetal pig Let's pretend

(it shouldn't end)

W. C. Fields is any Greek who drinks martinis
let's pretend
I can sing like Lennon and write songs like Leon Trotsky?
You look like Julie Christie standing in the shade at night (and like Agatha out in the light) but let's pretend

You act like Kate Hepburn when she's opening a soup can but pretend!
I have all the charm of Frank Sinatra when he's sleeping but pretend!
It happens once a year now to a bunch of you and me Variety Show gives a chance to be to our pretend (until it ends)

Drama

See the girl in the stiff shiny green? she's a royal daughter or a washroom attendant she humms along mornings blithe and silly glances and bounces along you notice the other?
a worrier brooding over some discrepancy between herself and something that someone just ran by and yelled out calling it "reality" then there is me actress looking very much like either one of those curious ladies and what am I really like?
Really sir!

THUMPI

Intramurals

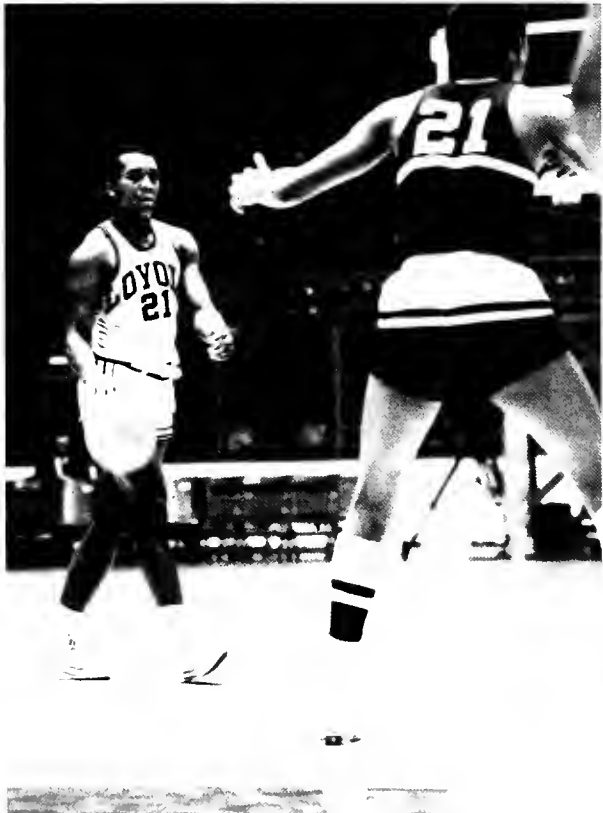

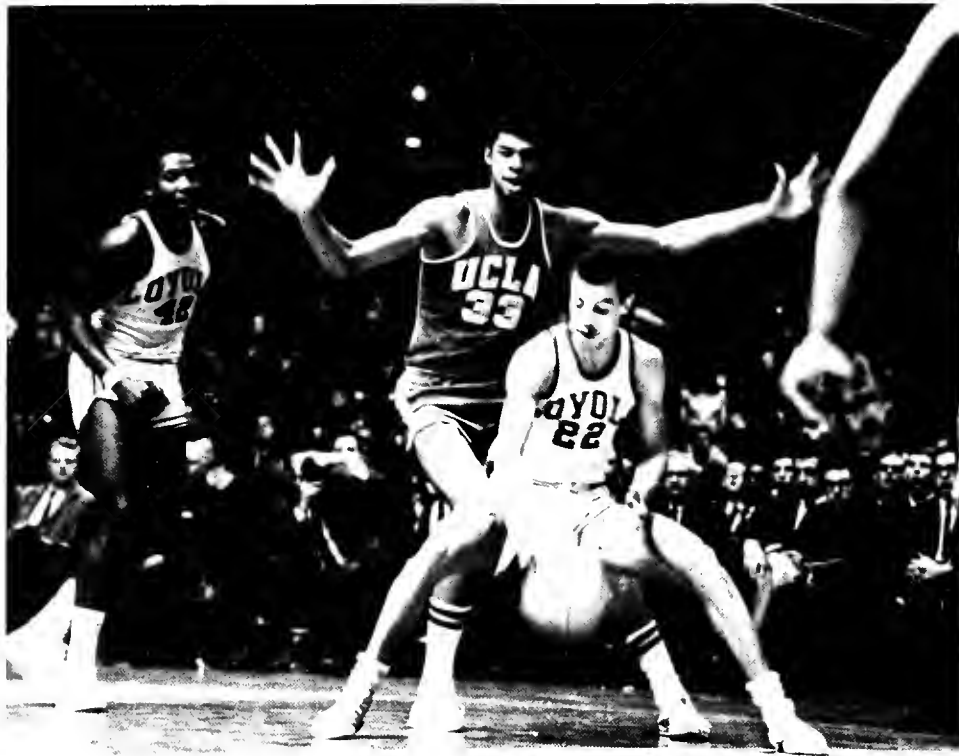

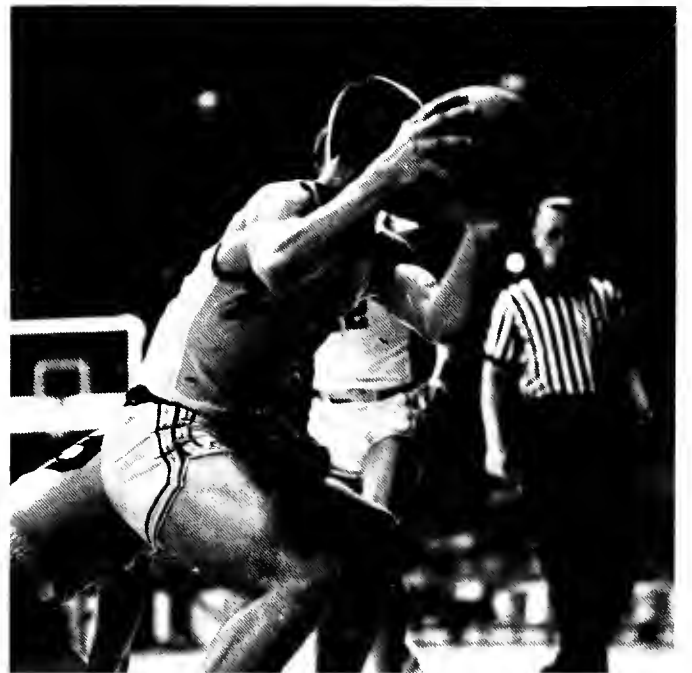

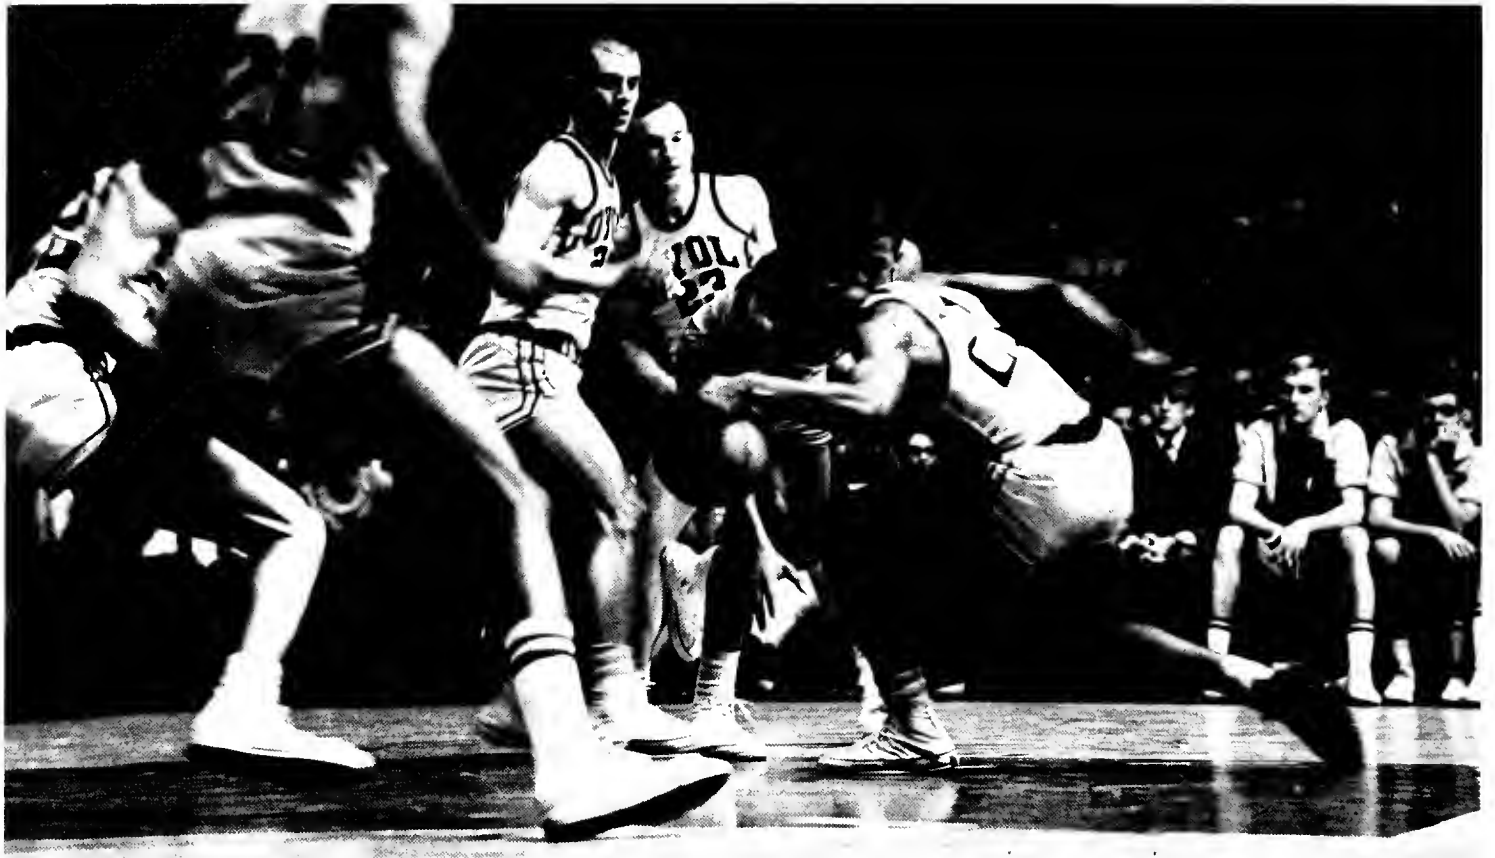

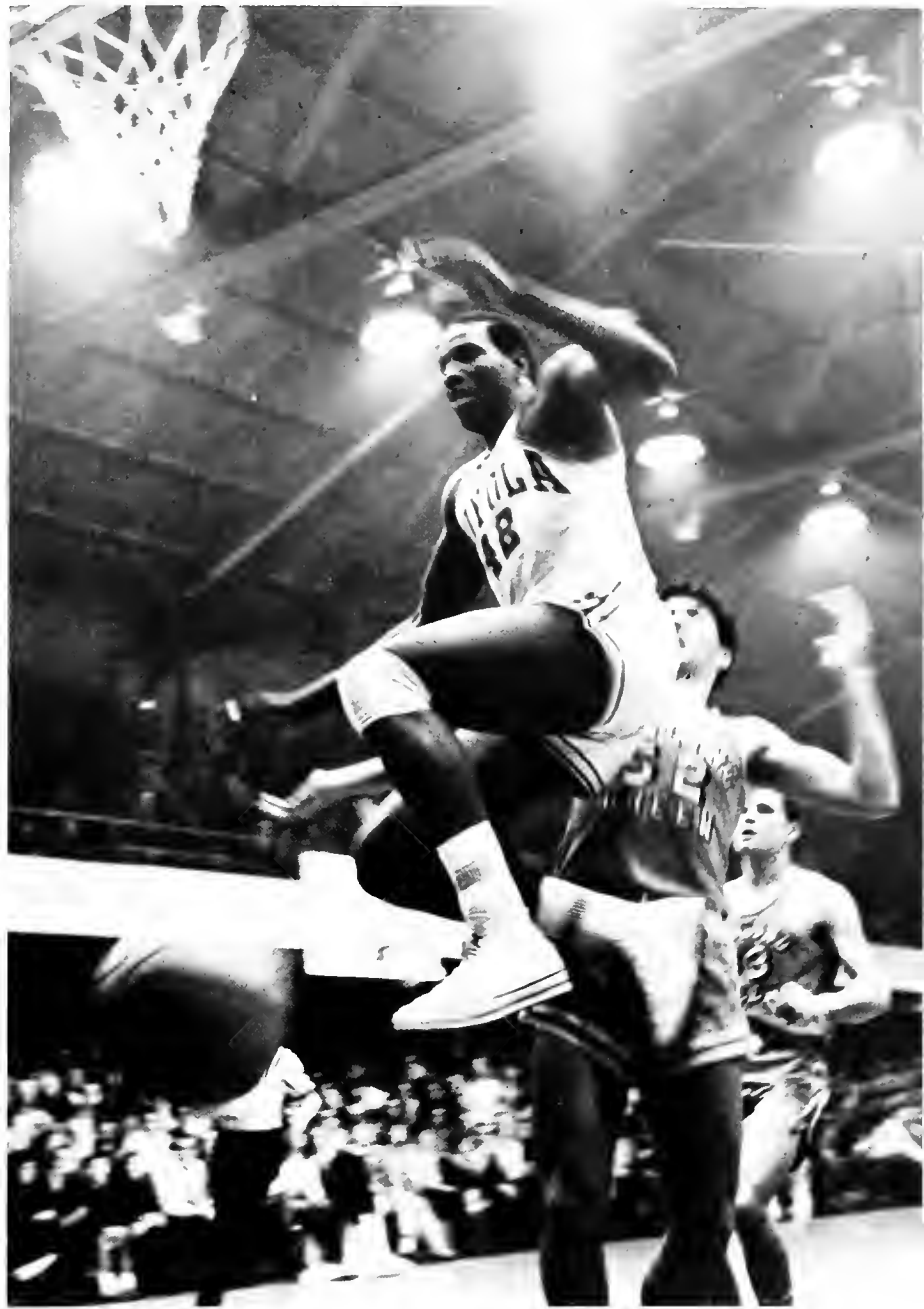

Basketball

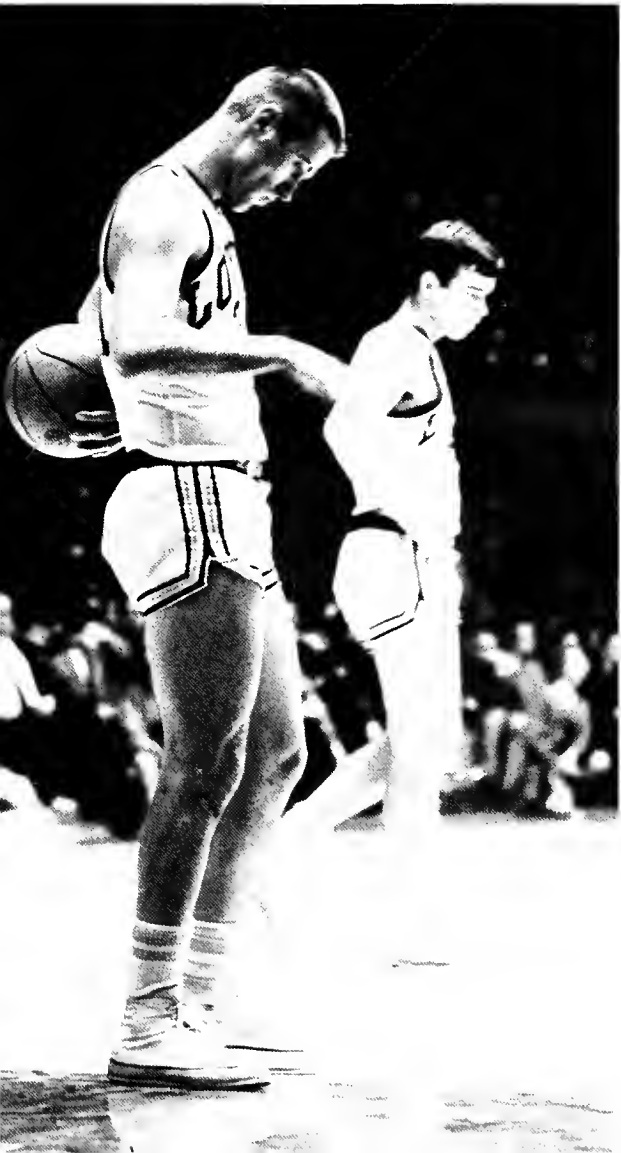

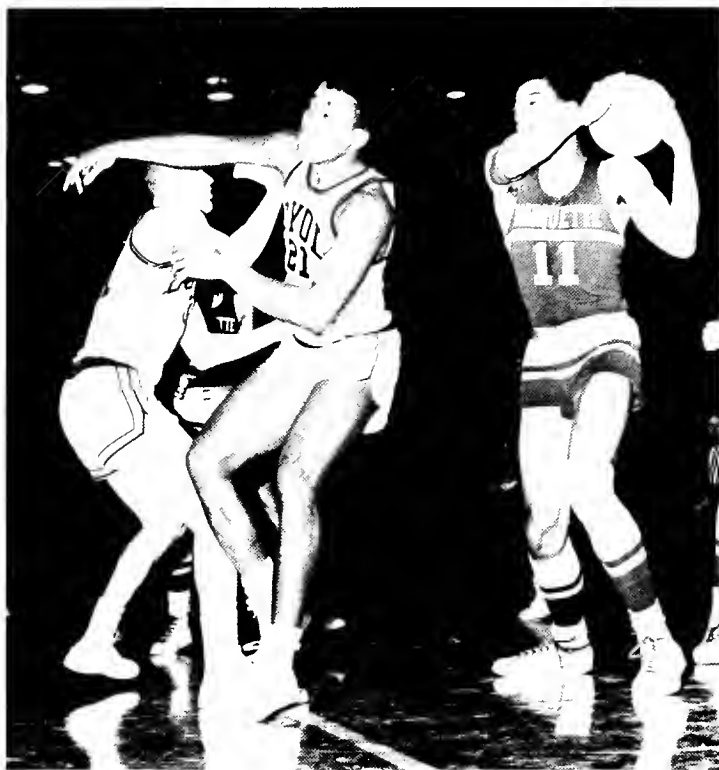

Water Polo

Polo on horseback kills the horses Polo in water drowns the players or seems to, from poolside treading, sprinting, lunging through the thick stuff that gets thicker and heavier with every play body contact of football with the protection of a gymnast sprint power of a 25-yarder with the endurance of a soccer player smooth, heavy muscles of a wrestler with the grace of a ballet dancer leap like a porpoise to bat a small ball the length of an Olympic pool crashing and charging fighting and feigning pass and shoot swim and sprint

from goalie to goalie back and again taking the toll of a horse from a waternaut

Swimming

Ten feet of water blue with chlorine a team of eyes red with water six lanes to labor in from start to finish starter's gun cannonades off the tiled wall the swimmers leap to knife the surface the printers splash and churn kick and pull drive as fast as they can not much time to get where they're going the long distance men's lazy style far way to go

may as well lope with form and style an easy grace with regular rhythm variation loses time and exhaustion steals that rhyme the water is to float on and gargle see through and get through glide over the top and dive to the bottom work out every day practice the same thing daily try hard be confident don't play games that will tie up your muscles watch what you eat put it on the line and shave a second or two a fraction in the next race

Track

Run circles for miles every day fast and short, long and slow end always where it started run!
lungs ache throat gasps legs of rubber arms of lead salty sweat, hot and wet then on a day stand for hours to wait for the few seconds and their tenths that make it worthwhile

Jerry Hahn, Assistant coach and Jerry Weiland, Coach.

Bellarmino School Of Theology

This is a professional school: Bellarmino Scholasticate it prepares men to be priests, and trains them as teachers, missionaries, and administrators

Like Loyola's other professional schools it serves the Chicago community (and Detroit province as well)

At first it's a world of its own (in a former luxury motel-live in) but the scholastics come over as candidates for higher degrees to the other branches of their university

REV. ROBERT MURRAY, S.J., Rector

REV. JOSEPH DE VAULT, S.J.
Dean of Theology

Dental School

The school of Dentistry orients its four-year program toward intellectual spiritual social values and professional excellence since 1844

when its predecessor's first graduating class began public service the Loyola School of Dentistry has won world and national recognition

DR. WILLIAM SCHOEN

Graduate School

DR. RICHARD MATRE, Dean

These are the ones for whom learning itself will be a trade this means the end of textbooks the beginning of contact with the raw materials of the arts the most creative aspects of the sciences
is a grueling thing it means business

MARY LOUISE McPARTLIN, Director

No lectures just the book and you (shades of Abraham Lincoln) and thousands of words (yours) sent off in an envelope to a Michigan Avenue office

They return corrected and graded to workers, soliders, invalids

Loyola comes in a big brown envelope to those who cannot come to it They earn college credit more money they contact a university

Institute Of Industrial Relations

Lately everything (education government social work) seems to resemble INDUSTRY

the work of industrial relations—helping those who manage those who obey to come to terms becomes ever more necessary

DR. JULIUS REZLER, Director and MR. TERRY WILKIN, Assistant Director

Law School

Common agreement (in form of customs and the opinion of our legislators) and something else maybe a respect for a higher will and order than mere (CONSENSUS)! these are law which looks like a machine but is alive and ever-changing

"Today we are in the midst of another revolutionary and dramatic moment in the history of science — in an age of mass socialization, mass building programs, mass medical centers, and mass medical research, when it is crucial that the mass approach must not displace the recognition of the intrinsic dignity possessed by each individual patient." Nursing

DR. MARY LODGE, Dean

The new home of Nursing is Damen Hall in the midst of Philosophy, Bio.; all of the Arts and the Sciences which rehearse the well rounded Physicist Poet, Mechanic, or Nurse

A four year curriculum (B.S.N.) is comprised of a hospital training and Public Health with the liberal course of work which the lady already trained takes as a Registered Nurse

Rome Center

Evenings
Rome has pink and green the smell of pine and pasta and Loyola (not the odour: students wandering piazzas or indoors just as you or I cramming for tests) eternals campus of the humanities Rome with the roar of more motor-scooters than Rogers Park drowned in even louder fountains is host to the Rome Center where the scope of the student life experience is broadened to match the education Buzzing like locusts You swept across the sea Guzzling champagne like love or rye;

And with ready winds I welcomed you Who devoured
Cento coins and mille lire bills Buying birra Peroni and Canadian Club With November's wet winds, I Shattered your shuttered windows bitterly, And you escaped to Europe's sugar shrines; My winter's indifference was temperate Because I craved your love.
Rebounding with starch-filled mouths, My Colosseo glowed more Like gold than Scotch;
In San Pietro to those Kodak creatures, Blurting enthusiasm from love-filled lips, Searching with "Dove?" and "Che cosa è?", You wondered Where my winds are and what I am.
Then you skipped across the sea Chattering like children; Shouting of the rapture of our love,
And the first taste of rum candy.

School Of Social Work

DR. MATTHEW SCHOENBAUM, Dean

A large Society demands it:
the application science — a knowledge of human behavior — to the physical, mental, emotional problems which a large society involves
is not the subtle art of handing out or withholding the monthly check it is a humanizing science learned by thousands from around the world At Loyola's School of Social Work

University College

MR. JOHN DONOHUE, Acting Dean

MR. JOSEPH BARNEY, Assistant to the Dean

Education for the Working Man for teachers, married people busy citizens is at University College in the spare hours of the evenings; weekends, men and women earn B.S., A.B. degrees in Business, Liberal arts and Education For Fifty three years
The University College has helped complete the education of Chicagoans

Mid-year Graduation

Shed a tear for mater's alma get out quick in time for dinner with aunt Katharine from Quincy
"thank you father" now you're old tremble down the red rug's softness cross the stage and clutch the sheepskin it was done before you knew it (pattern broken) we are holders of degrees from The University now it's for us to make them mean in a new society which doesn't grade success with letters or at all after dinner with aunt Katharine who came all the way from Quincy after Summer, post vacation but we'll have to do it
and we can

Residences

We're on our own our moms are far behind the folks we've got are not the lovin' kind and so we'll trick them deaf and dumb and blind there'll be a hot time in the mess hall
tonight

J board knows all the rules in all the books Proctor's sore cause he hasn't got our looks down the hall there's a prude who thinks we're crooks
at the dean's place
tonight

One year here
can help you grow like ten One year here
is like seven in the pen But we're glad we're here and we'll tell you once again
in the mess hall
tonight

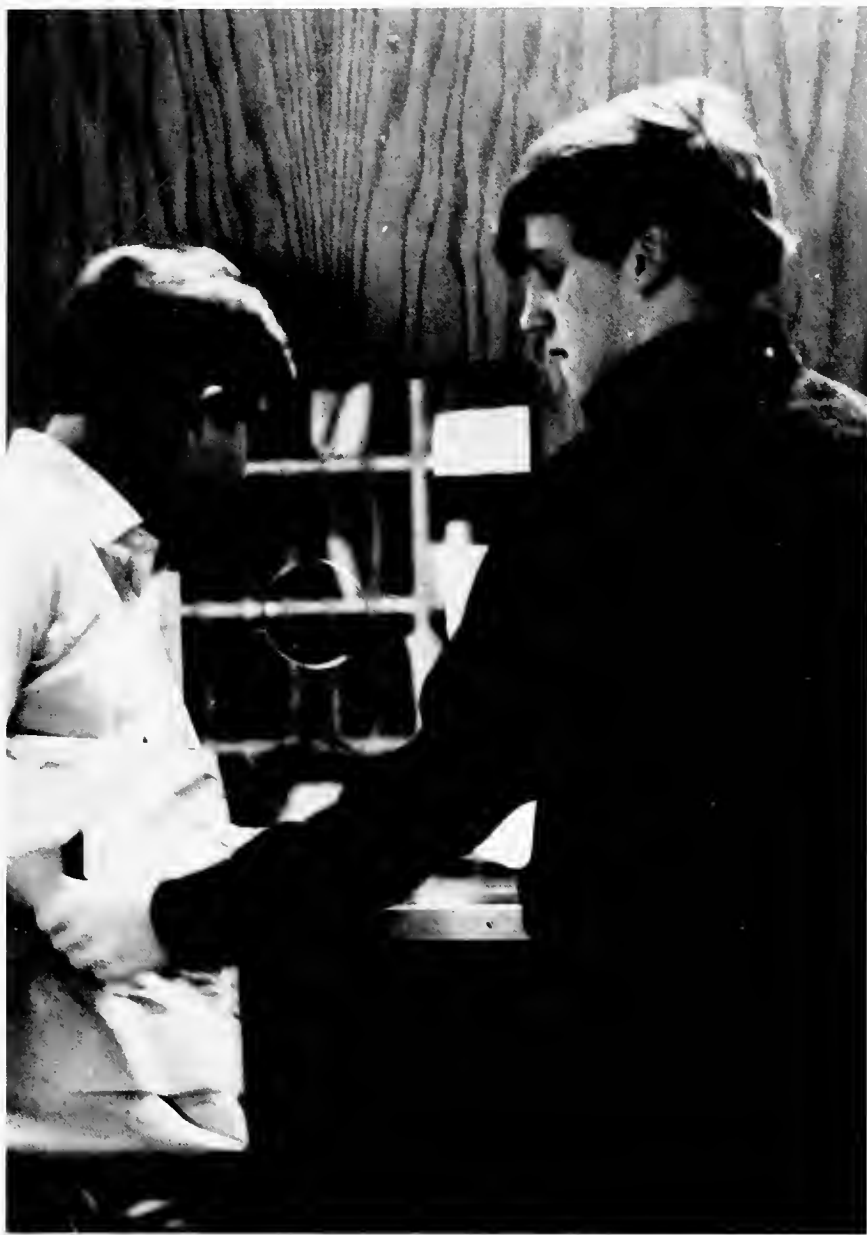

Campion Hall

Where the boys are four hundred strong institutional life (that's getting along with the guy down the hall who plays drums and a gong) is experience none would give up or prolong does anyone reading this still worship Fong?

Chamberlain Hall

Girls in a group are different from guys (in case you don't know this we're putting you wise) they organize luaus brew tea by the tank smile sweetly and curtsy and trot to the bank . . .

Delaware Hall

It looks as if it would house stately widows bank presidents politicians or maybe Hugh Hefner in the (not-so-shabby genteel) manner to which they are accustomed the Gold Coast has been invaded each year young ladies from Alabama Alaska
Arizona
Arkansas (not to mention Arlington Heights) move in next door to society (a few blocks from the much-avoided poor) and create in this unlikely atmosphere "closeness"

Edgewater Beach

Ladies, we said are not quite like men at the Edgewater Beach you can see this again their first year together these delicate waifs formed a powder puff game that made living unsafe . . .

Gonzaga Hall

Gonzaga hall is something unique: a student-run residence which does not have the prestige of a national fraternity behind it by doubling as a retreat house it helps to earn its keep Gonzaga has become something of a symbol: what the undergraduate can do.

St. Joseph's Manor

Only a couple of blocks from the zoo where old men pat the gregarious Gnu in case he should bite, there's a hospital too at St. Joe's

There are nurses and girls from both campuses there they ride on busses and cut their own hair (I can't find my scissors; do you have a spare—so it goes)

Seems like confusion and chaos combined but if you look closely, you'll probably find they're working together (that's how it's designed heaven knows)

Stebler Hall

Pilots of the purple Bonneville dropping in with tie and tails wouldn't recognize our Stebler rattling hair and shining nails they have seen them in the twilight in a dimly lighted hall they have seen them smiling back they have seen them not-at-all we are certain that we know them as they really are today dignity, a bit self conscious fights a natural spark of play we have seen them study

Shakespeare till the shaggy hours of dawn we have seen them sit and gossip on the stairway, by the lawn If we dipped into the future far as eye of man could see we might find them on committees pursing lips and drinking tea but we don't like that conclusion (freedom's most of it's not all) so we'll locate our affections next to Locks . . . er, Stebler Hall

Arts Council

Arts Council's best of the Tri-Council three it's artsiest (offers you movies to see) runs symposia you can get into for free and will print things for you at a nominal fee

The Arts council's great as your council should be and I help to run it so please vote for me

With Business School's council there's none to compare It runs mixers and helps get you jobs (which is rare)
It invented the booksale which treats students squarely I run it so vote for me that's only fair

Business Council

Nursing Council

To be in the unified Nursing School's shoes the other two councils would eagerly choose its social events all the students can use and the Freshman tea starts all the nurses to fuse in a sisterly bond

Seated: Terryann Tortorello, Sharon Truedson, Pat Wysocki, Peggy Lescher, Marcella Jordan, Andy Zullo, Carole DiLallo, Pat Maloney, Carol Poulosom, Terry Janiga. Standing: Fran Harshbarger, Jinni Bach, Karen Johns, Anne Schatteman, Marianne Bette, Victoria Stachowicz, Judy Baron, Sue Layfield, Virginia Majcherek, Pat Kauth, Jeanne Neu, Christine Cwiklinski, Mary Bigongiari, Eileen Harrington, Gerri Stroka.

Tri-Council

Tri-council's getting something done among the colleges (Business, Nursing, Arts)

It does it by trying to rise above the politics of the individual councils

Tri-council prints the student directory runs some events when the individual councils permit it it will do more, mean more it is the chief hope of student government

Remember the evening when nobody came to the concert or do you remember the name of the Pow Wow week chairman and all these dances the chances would favor your having forgotten the bickering quibbling parochial rotten surprisingly adult Activities Board which does all the work on our fun and the hoards of committees that scurry at getting things done for personal reasons they'd rather not air which is how things are now being done everywhere

Jack Donahue (chairman), Ed Muldoon (treasurer), Elaine Culen (secretary), Ed Hapaniewski (vice-chairman), Max Jarmoc (program coordinator).

Rattle rattle down the chute and out will you look at this dump! some palace—teeny-boppers swishing around old department chairmen waddling what's in this place? none of that stuff we thought (gods, gold, slaves, orangutans) not even me if all those things were never here why is it lonely now?

"La de da de da de da de da" (the way we used to talk) remember that? seemed pretty orderly at the time kids hoarding toys in a corner kids hoarding books for a term paper kids hoarding courses for a degree quite orderly evidence of firmness of purpose (doing what one is told)

A word about our old girlfriend (boyfriend):

THE CITY OF CHICAGO
(Richard J. Daley, Mayor) tore down the building in which she lived and built ADLAI STEVENSON EXPRESSWAY

(Ad Majorem Dei Gloriam) cut down the tree she sat under and built NOTHING

(She ran off grew a beard and married a saxophone player)

this is unfair

The South building couldn't live without us The North building didn't stand a chance half the library fell down in despair five apartment buildings tumbled The Med school moved eight miles the juke box broke there's nothing left at all (except that big white thing in the South parking lot and the new addition to the library and the 19 story dormitory and the medical school complex and Dumbach Hall)

We miss this place with nothing in it

This place has taught us to think (if and in so far as we do) it threw us up and out of it so we could see how we'd changed if we don't like all we see in this place it's because Loyola University (name of this place) taught us to think (It also made us potential Doctors of Medicine Dentistry Philosophy

 lawyers
 businessmen figpickers which fact while true is less important than other, nameless things) we no longer call ourselves pre-meds or pre-dents or English majors

we're out we don't use names besides our own and that's good too

The sixty-seven model girl looks however she may is sharp as she has to be has eyes that see a mouth that opens and closes and heels that reach from the bottom of her shoes all the way to the ground she's irresistible

If nobody sees and nobody cares and God doesn't say a word but we still do it in spite of everything or don't do it

6525 N. Sheridan Rd.
Chicago, Ill., 60626

is a wild gigantic smashing ecstatic SUCCESS

they make education possible make education challenging they do it

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY, CHICAGO ILLINOIS, ... BOOK NUMBER TWO ... THE UNIVERSITY

Julia Deal Lewis

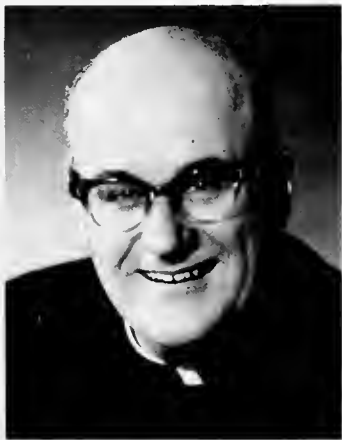

To everyone associated with Loyola University the name of Mrs. Frank J. Lewis is familiar her charities were innumerable her beneficence and counsel a mainstay of the university the record of her concern bridges the lifetimes of many of us for man's spiritual, intellectual and social well-being we do not have space or words to enumerate all she did we can only say: this woman lived for others

VERY REVEREND JAMES F. MAGUIRE, S.J., President

Through the efforts of the Very Reverend James F. Maguire, S.J., Loyola has become one of the finest Catholic universities in the nation. Previous to his arrival at Loyola, he was President of Xavier University in Cincinnati and rector of West Baden College. Appointed as President in 1955, he has broadened the education given at Loyola, especially by establishing the annual international summer trips to various foreign countries and the program of studies in Rome. Among his other innovations to Loyola have been the establishment of the Woman's Board, the Citizens' Board, the Alumni Advisory Council, the Board of Lay Trustees, the Businessman for Loyola, and the University Center at Lewis Towers.

Entrusted with the general welfare of the University, the Board of Jesuit Trustees must have a wide scope: long range planning and policy formation are its main concerns. The Board, under the chairmanship of the Very Rev. James F. Maguire, S.J., is thus the seat of administrative authority—the most important agency of the University.

Such matters as accreditation and admission procedures are all under its competent authority.

Women's Board

The Women's Board of Loyola University is a vital organ of communication between the campus and the community. At its quarterly luncheons, the Board learns of the many educational opportunities within the University and of Loyola's contributions to the city and the nation. The school is indeed fortunate to have such a group of civic, and social leaders represented in its Women's Board.

Alumni Council

In an effort to maintain a fruitful relationship between the University and its graduates, the Alumni Council—created only a few years ago—has already initiated an Alumni Newsletter and a very successful Alumni Day. The continued service of loyal alumni is the beneficial result.

To be better able to acquaint Chicago with the achievements of the University, the Citizens' Board—its members all prominent Chicagoans—meets four times a year to gain the knowledge of Loyola which is a means to that end. Both Loyola and Chicago benefit from its worthwhile efforts.

Dean Of Students Office

The Students' deans: they represent potential what students can do at the university through their government for student's rights expansion of services through organizations in social cultural charity work the life the student lives: his residence fun ambitions awful discipline advice good, cautious or both all centers in the offices of the Students' deans

Camellia Award

Camellia
the prize of community improvement is the community itself beheld and understood its recognition

the Camellia Award an honor to the woman whose efforts are most significant:
Mrs. Mary Lasker Block

Administrative

Deans

Socrates could walk up and down teach young men great things and get away from his wife at the same time today
it can't be done

Someone has to put a roof over Socrates make sure he knows what he's talking about find a place for all the young men keep them away from the young women see that Plato and Socrates aren't in the same place at the same time pay Socrates see what the young men have learned pass the word along

it's a hard job made no easier by the thought of Socrates

MR. DION WILHELMI, Assistant Dean

REV. WALTER KROLIKOWSKI, S. J., Dean

REV. HUGH RODMAN, S. J.

MR. GEORGE LUTER

Anthropology

Anthropology studies human society in it's least self conscious form it glues together old pots marks out the ebb and flow of cultures views modern complexity from the vantage of primitive simplicity and trys to map out a development it's a serious business with romantic overtones

REV. FRANCIS GROLLIG, S.J.
Department Chairman

Biology

Biology is full of hints: it points toward half of medicine it suggests an ordered cosmos it's terribly mundane (and deadly for foetal pigs) but Biology (the matter of life) still fascinates and bewilders

REV. WALTER PETERS, S.J.

Chemistry

DR. RAYMOND MARIELLA, Department Chairman

The Chemist's the classic scientist liking things for what they are He looks at gallons of cobalt says: "Cobalt is blue, you know" and then you do so do the Physicist and the Biologist

Classics

Classics is quite literally a world it has its own language, history, theology, science, geography, literature It has its own dignity and sense of order too and the study of the classics (or so the layman imagines) can help us catch a needed glimpse of the heroic

REV. THEODORE TRACY, S.J., Department Chairman

DR. JOHN WOZNIAK, Department Chairman

Perhaps it's a matter (at bottom) of eliciting response teachers love, tease, threaten, apply technique, love, plead, discard lesson-plans and love If the word "education" has a dull thud to it think of it as the science of getting across to the apathetic, discouraged and ordinary Education is nothing short of momentous

English

Sometimes English looks pretty pedantic (from rules of spelling and rules of grammar to the five basic uses to spondee: the etymology of "What? Ho!") English can seem pedantic because communication is a very subtle matter. In trying to capture it completely, one can slip into pedantry and lose everything.
But, as the chief joy of life most think it's worth the risk

DR. JOHN GERRIETTS, Department Chairman

History

DR. PAUL LIETZ, Department Chairman

Whenever you take something for granted you're dealing with History (Democracy is good for you History is bunk and so forth) History is the study of attitudes and habits and where they come from —Oh yes: and the date of the Norman Conquest (1492?)

Math

Math's more human than it looks: it's reason's wild imagination (It's also Bach's and Physics' tool and Yearbook pagination) but don't think of it as a device.
Math is as real as the mind which makes the rules.

MR. JOHN CONNELLY, Department Chairman

Military Science

LT. COL. DONALD GLUCK, Department Chairman

Men are constantly fighting one another from their offices their typewriters their foxholes soldiers are men honest enough to admit what they must do
prepares them to teach others one of mans sorriest necessities

Modern Language

Modern Language teaches more than another way of saying "I am an American Student" (which hardly anyone says these days) Each language has its own logic its own spirit each offers a different way (of thinking about being an American Student)

DR. LOUIS SOLANO, Department Chairman

Natural Science

DR. LLOYD ARNOLD, Department Chairman

was the first of those sciences of life it studied the elements classified various beasts observed the rules of heredity and aroused curiosity about Biology Chemistry
Medicine

Philosophy

Philosophy is implicit: one does not worship or love see, touch or smell one does not think without it to study Philosophy is only to stop to reflect on the assumptions

DR. FRANCIS CATANIA, Department Chairman

Physics

MR. MARK MINKLER, Acting Chairman

Physics takes an overview: wants to know how corn oil flows the specific gravity of alligators so it can guess universal laws (it is very religious) good luck to these men and their escalator

Political Science

There are those who think of government as a rationally constructed machine (pour in politicians turn the crank it goes)
These people may have given
its name Those who study politics know the rules of a government are alive

REV. JOSEPH SMALL, S.J., Department Chairman

Psychology

DR. RONALD WALKER, Department Chairman

Psychology finds reasons for the strangest things and does some of them it flashes curious words in front of undergraduates it slices up the brains of rats it sits in dark rooms watching little points of light and every other humanistic discipline is much the richer for it

Sociology

Human interaction on a large scale: Customs, mores, patterns are raw materials of Sociology Sociology collects them, it adds them and analyzes them and touches on the fears and hopes of the many the pressures they place on the few

DR. PAUL MUNDY, Department Chairman

Speech

DR. DONALD STINSON, Department Chairman

Speech is the art with the "feeling tone" it stirs emotion in debate brings life (and thought) alive in drama gives full meaning to the written word Speech is the discipline where deceit is hardest

Theology

God reveals Theology explores and God reveals The processes are fused Theology—
no more static than the universe—Theology's an active Queen of Knowledge

REV. FRANCIS FILAS, S.J., Department Chairman

Honors Program

REV. CARL BURLAGE, S.J.
Director

For those to whom learning will be life and profession and for those who move farther and faster

The Honors Program is a real necessity it gives an added depth to courses provides a congenial peer group
never lets life become too easy

Library

Keeping a library requires more than a dust rag and a knowledge of decimals, constant, careful planning of expansion, acquisition, building and a seemingly limitless talent for finding things make the librarian a known and respected figure to all who take their education seriously

MR. JAMES COX
Director

Business Administration

DR. VIRGIL BOYD, Dean

Business Administration's tools are inevitable accounting, binding law forceful economics their intent is to make co-operation more than another tool to tie it to the voluntary Christian ethic

makes the most gigantic things quite manageable it translates them into common terms with it you can liquidate your surplus . . .
(any number of mysterious things) from the beginning of modern times (the beginning of large-scale trade) Accounting had been an essential tool of civilization

DR. ROBERT MEIER, Department Chairman

Business Law

DR. JOHN ZVETINA, Department Chairman

defines the common meaning of those understandings—contracts, securities—which form the basis of trust the element which makes all commerce possible

Economics Finance

Wealth
(the idea of wealth) moves crops digs holes keeps (almost) everybody moving.
Wealth—
this energy-in-convenient form is the subject of Economics-Finance
Hardly a sedentary study.

DR. THEODOSI MOGILNITSKY, Department Chairman

Marketing

The science of Marketing (when to dig the turnips and take them to town) has developed into an art (tie a blue bow around the turnips put them in a plastic sack) it seeks out tastes and forms them

MR. DONALD MEYER, Chairman

DR. RAYMOND MAYER, Chairman

Management

J. J. Astor trapping foxes happened to be a genius

if the man who owns the fox doesn't happen to be a genius or, more likely, if 426,889 men own the fox they can hire a manager who co-ordinates fox-feeder fox-breeder fox-wrapper fox-skinner fox-seller and fox

the manager brings skill without ownership

Howard Hughes you're obsolete

Greeks

Spartans eat Milesian generals for snacks and Athenians use Thebans as rugs but if any Barbarians laugh at the Greeks they'll flatten the miserable thugs (They are proud of their temples whose doors never close, and their wine like the dusky Aegean that flows never ending around them, as everyone knows who's not been there)

Pallas Athena with eyes flashing gray they honor with sacrifice due she mingles amongst them in various forms

Fun?

Listen:

if it was athletic pushing and shoving on a muddy field or dark and smokey in the gym or in some basement if it was bright-lit flouncing and flashing a Greek probably did it

Yeah!

those jokers with the jewelry on their shirts (blouses, etc.)

Work?

Oh yeah:

keeping orphans amused they've done that Helping run our student government (I said they worked—not that they were geniuses) collecting clothes for the poor

a Greek did it

Really!

The ones that sit around their own tables in the union (houses, street corners)

The mugs who send their pledges to ask you for a dried prune

They do all kinds of things besides giving each other an identity

Greeks

how about that

Professional Fraternities

There's twice as much reason for joining these Greeks (the first cause is fun and the second's the future) They've one common goal and their files mean a lot ("since you're a brother I'll lend you a suture") Of course all fraternities form lifelong bonds but these can give mutual recommendations to patients afflicted with Bactrian crud and clients who covet immense corporations So if you're among those who know what they want (to stake out a place in a pleasant profession) you may want to join the professional Greeks (lord saves us from medicare or a recession)

They dare to be different look at themselves (not at what everyone else does) and step out to lead a few plod through books hours on end most create

We can't help noticing them so we say so (hang medals on 'em, give them keys, slips of paper, what-have-you) Having little heros is an age old urge these are ours

Clubs

There's a club here for people who like to dig sherds monkey with words learn about Kurds and their families you can find something exciting to do even if you play the kazoo or love Goldwater those who like drama and people who ski folks who sing glees or bend their knees riding horses can change the world or forget it a while in magnificent style

A yearbook seems at first glance to be a fairly simple proposition. The picture of your girlfriend is either more or less inadequate, the description of your favorite activity misses the point by a greater or lesser margin than last year, and the front or back covers either do or do not hold the book together. Aside from a chuckle or a moment of indignation, this may be all the thought you give to the matter. But, don't be fooled.

If you've arrived at this point in a moment of ennui, and nothing else is pressing for your attention, you might want to take another look at your investment. First, have a glance at one of the photographs, preferably that of someone you don't know. It will probably reveal some element of composition. Some of the shots may even show a kind of attractiveness. This is the work of our photographers. They've arranged the U.I.L. to look like a unified whole and they've discovered a semblance of design in the Alumni Gym.

They did not accomplish this alone. It was easy enough to corner the gymnasium, but getting the United World Federalists together and finding the chairman of the Phrenology department at his ease were entirely different problems. The scheduling department did this. It wasn't easy, and a good deal of screaming and hollering went on in all directions, but by and large the schedulers did their job, and you'll observe that most of what should be there is there.

There is a sort of impressionistic narration accompanying the book this year. The Copy Editor, who composed it, adamantly insists that it is overwhelmingly, perhaps even gushingly appreciative of the University. He managed to convince the Editor of this, and you might want to spend a cold wet, evening trying to see if he was on the level. While you're at that task, you will notice something else about the copy: most of it is correctly spelled and punctuated. This did not just happen. The Copy Editor being semi-illiterate, the ladies who did the typing had to correct for it. Mixed in with their job were the tasks of several other departments which shared the work of putting things into print. The identifications staff also provide a clue to the contents of the photographs. Try figuring out a page without the headlines and identifications, and you will see that their drudgery provides the logical structure of the entire book.

If you still have nothing to do, you can check to see that all of the copy, captions, pictures, and identifications fit together. Keeping the TKEs off the ASN page was the job of another crew of nameless persons. But it does not stop there. If you have an eye for such things, you'll notice that the masses of print and photograph on each page are roughly (or smoothly) balanced off, just like the elements in the pictures. The layout staff did this, with a combined mathematical and artistic technique which is utterly incomprehensible to the rest of us. The whole herd was whipped together by the production staff, and the awful responsibility for your eight dollars was shouldered by the Editor and his assistants. Finally, our faculty advisor exercised the professionalizing influence he has contributed to so many previous books. You can't see it, or even sense it, but you can credit it for any trace of smoothness you may find.

None of this is unique, of course. The same basic facts are true of Time magazine and your grandma's scrapbook. We mention it because the work these people did was particularly hard; done in addition to their regular school work and jobs; and because the great part of the work was done without hope of financial remuneration or public recognition. A lot of the impetus to work on a yearbook is social, and not a little is the result of the obligations of friendship. But we like to dwell on the really determining element: the desire to celebrate our university — not as an institution, but as a temporary way of being and feeling. We hope you joined a little in that celebration, even if you always couldn't tell what the noise and laughter was about. It will make us feel a part of the real thing, which is what we wanted all along.
